When the service manager at the car dealership spent more time talking with me about my car than our pediatrician spent talking about my kids, I knew it was time for a new pediatrician. When we heard about Discovery Pediatrics, we thought we would give Dr. Horowitz a try. From the very first moment we knew we made the right decision. Dr. Horowitz worked to put my daughter at ease and even coaxed a few giggles out of her - she is very shy. He then proceeded to complete a thorough examination while continuing to work to keep my daughter relaxed. It was the first time that I got the sense that a doctor genuinely cared about my kids. Prior to finding Discovery Pediatrics, if one of my kids got sick we would call our pediatrician, talk to a nurse and hope to get a same day appointment. Usually, we wouldn't hear back from the assistants for several hours and would end up going to the local urgent care for a long wait. Discovery Pediatrics seems to understand that this manner of health care doesn't work very well, though it just seems to be accepted here in Santa Clarita. At Discovery Pediatrics we get access to a doctor that cares instead of assistants that don't. We are very thankful for that! Our heartfelt thanks to Dr. Paul and Dr. Daphne Horowitz, and the entire staff, for the exceptional service provided.
